Sharon Stevens
Recruiting Associate at Chase
JP Morgan Chase
Milwaukee Ave
Chicago, Illinois, 60647

Dear Sharon Stevens:

I've been giving my friends and family free financial advice since I was 12, and recently decided it's time I get paid for it. That's why I couldn't believe it when I found a Virtual Banker position at JP Morgan Chase. I understand how technology can play a significant role in a virtual banker position now more than ever. I admire Chase in how much they are trying to shrink the racial wealth gap. I have had tremendous experience in customer service, financial services and building relationships with customers.

From my work with Jake's as a Sales Representative I have learned that taking the time to build personal relationship with customers expands your business exponentially. My work on the IT team with iManage gave me a detailed understanding of computers in virtual environment. I can use my subtle sales skills to provide Chase customers exactly what banking products they need while simultaneously increasing revenue for Chase. In addition to my vast personal financial experience I am compliant with the Dodd-Frank/Truth in Lending Act.

As mentioned above, my experience with customer service, financial services and relationship building makes me a great candidate for Virtual Banker Assistant. I hope we have a chance to meet where I can share more about my experience and what I can bring to the Chase team. If you need any more information, please reach out. Thank you again for taking the time to read over my cover letter.

Sincerely,

Isaiah Dyrst
